To Whom It May Concern:

The American Medical Marijuana Physicians Association (AMMPA) is pleased to endorse your cannabis-specific electronic medical record system, CanaPass, and its U.S. equivalents, as the most physician-centric cannabis management system we have seen on the market thus far. By giving physicians the transparency to view the exact cannabis products our patients are purchasing, and by allowing doctors to set purchase parameters that will help prevent patients from obtaining products outside of the physician's explicit instructions, CanaPass is providing a level of visibility and compliance that is necessary for physicians to make beneficial dosage or recommendation adjustments in this new and evolving industry. While most physicians now agree on the potential health benefits that cannabis can provide eligible patients, many qualified physicians are still hesitant to incorporate cannabis as medicine due to a lack of information, understanding and confidence. AMMPA's mission is to support the physicians and patients who utilize medical marijuana as a treatment alternative in the setting of a legally indicated diagnosis, and we believe that CanaPass will help empower these physicians with the tools required to effectively and compliantly help those patients in need.

Sincerely,

Dr. Orlando Florete, MD – President
